SPENT $1500 TRYING TO GET WELL

Then Kellogg's ALL-BRAN Brought Relief

This startling letter from an ex-service man will interest everyone who suffered from constipation:

"I was discharged after the World War with heart trouble and had stomach. I had saved about $1500. Since that I've spent that sum and a lot more on doctoring and operations and medicines. I always was bothered with constipation."

"I told my wife to get some kind of light bran food and she would try it. She came home with small packages of Kellogg's ALL-BRAN. I ate it for breakfast, lunch and dinner, about a common tea-saucer full with milk at each meal. I have been doing this for about a month. I have stopped taking dope (medicines). I work 9 to 12 hours, have a good appetite. And now I am gaining flesh and believe I am getting well."—G. J. O'CONNELL, Barker, N. Y.

Clear up your system of constipation's poisons. Menus have regained their old-time vigor and vim, stopped constipation forever, by eating Kellogg's ALL-BRAN.

Eat two tablespoonsfuls daily in chronic cases with every meal. Relief is guaranteed. ALL-BRAN is 100% bran. 100% effective—doctors recommend it. Ready-to-serve with milk or cream. Use in cooking. See the recipes on the package. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek. Sold by all grocers. Served in leading hotels and restaurants—dining rooms.

COUNTY WILL STUDY TAX SYSTEM REFORMS

Commission Also Will Take Up Zoning Problem; Meeting Set for Monday.

Proposed legislation for reform of Fulton county's tax return system and for institution of zoning, will be discussed at 4 o'clock Monday afternoon at a special meeting of the county commission.

The county zoning map was defeated. The legislature has made no provision for zoning in the approaching session. The city of Atlanta already has a zoning law.

Chief matters to be discussed at Monday's meeting are the proposal to institute a set of building regulations, with a system of building permits, in the county, and to require the registration of property deeds with the tax receiver before they are eligible for record.

Following a conference between the commissioners, Edwin F. Johnson, tax receiver, the tax assessors and the tax investigator, the commissioners Friday night voted to seek a bill which would limit the tax assessors in equalizing property assessments. Mr. Johnson pointed out a number of gross inequalities in tax returns, and urged that the bill be passed so that the burden of taxation will not be carried by small property owners.

The commission will meet again at 3 o'clock Monday afternoon, and will start the legislative discussion of a bill. It is expected that the bill sought in New York to finance county unit taxes until come in will be completed by Monday.

Hoover Favors Reserve Plans To Halt Credit Use For Speculative Purpose

President Fully Informed of Action in Spite of Lack of Official News on Matter.

BY BASIL MANLY.

Washington, April 12.—President Hoover is strongly in sympathy with the policy of the federal reserve board in using its influence to curb the use of credit for speculative purposes and in maintaining a stable discount rate for general business, it was learned today from an authoritative source.

While there has been no official communication between the White House and the federal reserve board, which are just across the street from each other, it is known that the president has kept himself fully informed regarding not only the general commercial and financial situation but also the reasons underlying the policies of the board. Certain members of the federal reserve board who have been influential in the establishment of its present policies are among President Hoover's closest friends and have maintained close contact with him since his inauguration.

Action As Secretary.

As secretary of commerce Mr. Hoover is said to have approved the policy of the federal reserve system in maintaining low interest rates and establishing large credits as a means of a system of a real standard of living.

This action which is now being attacked as responsible for the development of speculative activity he felt was of direct benefit to American foreign trade and essential to the restoration of the financial stability of the country.

Both as food administrator and as secretary of commerce Mr. Hoover repeatedly denounced speculation in securities as well as commodities. In this his attitude is said to have been in marked contrast to that of several "Condole" and other members of his cabinet. "Movements on the stock exchanges," he said on one occasion, "are not an index to the real industrial and business conditions of the country."

Particular attention is at this time directed to the warning against excessive diversion of credit for speculative purposes which Mr. Hoover issued as secretary of commerce in the midst of the so-called "Condole boom." This statement, which was issued December 31, 1929, was soon held responsible for the violent break in stocks which occurred during the first quarter of 1929. After referring to the "extraordinary rise in the prices of stocks accompanied by marked speculation on the New York Stock Exchange," Mr. Hoover said:

Speculation Fever.

"This fever of speculation is also widespread and real stagnation unless our financial policies are guided with courage and wisdom this speculation may yet reflect in the commodity markets, thereby reversing the cautious buying policies of recent years."

Speculation plays a larger part in business management and administration than can only land us on the shores of over-depression. Not since 1920 have we required a better informed or more capable administration of credit facilities than now, if we are to continue uninterrupted high plane of prosperity."

Since entering the White House, President Hoover has carefully refrained from expressing publicly any opinions regarding the financial situation, but it is understood that he has privately expressed great concern over the large amount of credit absorbed by the security market.

LORAY TEXTILE MILL EMPLOYEES RETURNING

Charlotte, N. C., April 12.—The strike situation in the two Carolinas apparently continued at a standstill today, though officials of the Loray Mill of the Manville-Jenkins Company at Gastonia, N. C., said that about 1,000 of their employees were at work.

The Loray plant normally works about 1,100 persons on the day shift and last week mill officials said that the greatest number at work any one day was about 750. The report that the larger number was at work today came from authorities and strike officials in charge of troops doing emergency guard duty at the plant to express the opinion that conditions would shortly be returned to normal.

A small New England number five plant of the Standard Woolen Company had resumed hills and at Lexington, N. C., no new developments were reported.

The Gastonia, Pineville and Lexington plants are idle as the result of union strikes. The Lexington workers are still picketing and organized in protest against a wage cut that have since demanded recognition of the National Textile Workers Union.

In South Carolina changes were reported at Greenville, Union, Anderson and Spartanburg. Several thousand workers idle at those places continued their unorganized strike in protest against efficiency systems.

No disorders of any kind were reported at any of the strike sectors following the news that an unidentified man had to have been shot to gain admission to the Loray mill last night with two sticks of dynamite in his possession. The soldier who made the find of the explosive turned the man over to a surprised deputy sheriff, he reported, and he hasn't been seen since.

JOB-HUNTING BOY FINDS BIG CHECK LYING IN STREET

New York, April 12.—(AP)—An Indianapolis youth who hitched here to look for a job on a ship sailing foreign ports found his opportunity in the form of a $1,000,000 check lying in the street.

When James Dickett, 22, set out this morning in an effort to land a job at Broadway and Cedar street he saw the check, made payable by Pynphon & Co., to the Hanover National Bank, lying in the dust.

He turned it in to the Hanover National; from there, he was escorted to Pynphon & Co. and soon was the recipient of a $20 reward and the congratulations of financiers. Then an adjuster of the National Surety Company took him to the United Fruit Line office to see about that job.

VETERANS OF WAR ARE NOW ELIGIBLE FOR CITIZENSHIP

World War veterans of foreign birth are given the privilege of obtaining citizenship papers on the strength of their service record under the terms of the naturalization act of March 3, 1929, it was announced Friday by Colonel C. O. Thomas, Jr., of the local army recruiting headquarters.

Contrary to general belief, service in the war did not automatically confer citizenship, Colonel Thomas explained. The act gives the privilege of obtaining actual citizenship papers without filing notice of intention, getting first papers and giving proof of five years' residence in this country. The new act is the extension of privileges granted to veterans by an act of March 20, 1929, and will be in effect until March 3, 1931.

DENIED GERMAN REFUGE, TROTZKY UNPACKS TRUNKS

Constantinople, April 12.—(AP)—Leon Trotsky, bitterly disappointed at Germany's refusal to admit him, reluctantly today began to unpack his boxes and trunks to settle down in the tiny white house in the outskirts of the city he longed to quit.

He has engaged a stenographer and it is said he would concentrate his energies in the writing of his autobiography.

The embittered exile refused today to talk with representatives of the press, but it was reported his considerate Germany's refusal to accord him medical treatment tantamount to a death blow, the climate at Constantinople being injurious to his shattered health.

Jenkins, inventor of processes for broadcasting visual scenes by radio, has been offered a position in America to conduct the tests. He believes that if successful, the apparatus would be found of great military value in time of war placing headquarters in visual range of actual operations.

folk, at their Palm Beach winter home on February 19, was found guilty by a jury in criminal court here today. The jury deliberated 45 minutes.

Defense counsel immediately gave notice that a motion for a new trial will be filed. No date was set by the court for the hearing of this motion for pardon of sentence. The maximum penalty under Florida law is 15 years in prison.

HARDMAN COMMISSION TO ASSEMBLE APRIL 19

Governor Hardman's special commission to study the co-ordination of operations of state government will meet at the capitol Friday, April 19, at 10 o'clock, it was announced Friday by Ivan E. Allen of Atlanta. Mr. Allen, who has been authorized by Dr. E. G. Gamble, of Emory university, had been added to the commission from the state-at-large.

Discussing his views of the meeting, Mr. Allen said:

"Changes, if suggested, should be to establish some definite purpose and not simply be a rearrangement of activities."

"The objectives to be kept in mind should be mainly simplicity, efficiency, economy, avoiding duplication, maintaining co-ordination and placing responsibility. No should adequate and necessary service be sacrificed for mere economy."

"It is not contended that any of the important work undertaken by the state were not responsible, there has been much wilful waste, corruption or extravagance in their execution or administration; but it is thought that the time has arrived to take into consideration the question of whether a similar organization, which has served well and efficiently, might not be improved and rendered more efficient and economical."

Electrician's Widow Seeks Total of $70,000 For Death of Husband

Two damage suits, each asking $35,000, were filed in the city court by Mrs. A. H. Davis, who alleges her husband was killed by an electrical shock while working on boilers in Russell High school. One petition names as defendant the City of Elizabethtown, and the other W. P. Franklin, principal contractor on the school, as the defendant.

Mrs. Davis charged that on the day of her husband's death, August 23, the current was irregular, changeable and harmful due to a defective transformer and that when current should have been 110 volts it was more than 220. Her husband was shocked and almost instantly killed while disconnecting an extension cord, the petition alleges. The petitions were filed by Edgar Latham as attorney for Mrs. Davis.

CHRISTOPHER INDICTED FOR WIFE'S MURDER

DeKalb Grand Jury Acts Quickly—Early Trial Seen for Slayer.

Decatur, Ga., April 12.—(Special) LeRoy V. Christopher, 35 years old, young carpenter, who shot and killed his wife, early Tuesday morning as their two children looked on, was indicted for murder today at a special session of the DeKalb grand jury.

Judge John B. Hatchetson, who presided, recommended that an early trial be given the slayer.

Christopher has given various stories in regards to his slaying of his wife, the mother of their five children. He claims he "saw a man running from his home" when he returned home after being out all night. Christopher has never fully accounted for his whereabouts the night preceding the murder.

Two of his children, who saw their father shoot the woman, died yesterday that Mrs. Christopher had come running the night before, or that any man was in their home, or had been near.

Nine years ago, Christopher is alleged to have shot his mother, blinding her in one eye.

Christopher is being held in the DeKalb county jail.

The Christopher children are being cared for by a relative of the family, Mrs. D. O. Gravitt, of 398 Grant street, Atlanta.

SOUTH TO LEAD U. S., SAYS BLACK

Under the new plan, the south will share the lead, Mr. Black said. "Already there are millions and millions of dollars worth of iron and steel products being shipped out of the state yearly and all of the major companies with holdings in the state are expanding or have announced expansion."

"The affiliation of Georgia industries will bring here many companies, large syndics and an industrial status which will be second to none," Mr. Black said. "The banks plan great faith in the cotton industry, which he said was just budding in Georgia.

"Georgia is an industrial state," Governor Black said. "Our clays have been proved to be among the best in the world and we have many small farms and mineral products which are already showing great profits and bidding fair to become nationally known companies. Our farms, too, are becoming better and more profitable every year. Despite serious handicaps, though, the weather the state now seems likely to have a bountiful agricultural year."

Florida Comes Back.

Mr. Black said the Florida, hamstrung by its deflated housing structural plan, will be one of the most important industrial states in the south. North Carolina, he added, was among the strongest and had been the strongest in the south.

"All the other states in the south likewise have their industrial products, many of which are sold all over the world," Mr. Black said. "The myth that the south is purely an agricultural section has been exploded and everywhere people are making tremendous strides in the industrial world."

Mr. Black's address was followed by a brief talk by George H. Bailey, counsel for the American Mining Congress who told what the congress is doing to help the south do for the south.

It is our purpose.

Mr. Bailey said, "to find out just what the south has from its greatest to its smallest product. The American Mining Congress is not interested in everwhere the people are making tremendous strides in the industrial world."

Mr. Black's address was followed by a brief talk by George H. Bailey, counsel for the American Mining Congress who told what the congress is doing to help the south do for the south.

Other Speakers.

At the morning session the conference was addressed by B. G. Klugh, of the Swann Corporation, New York, and noted New York industrial economist.

Mr. Klugh spoke on research as an essential factor in industrial process.

"The first thing any section must do is to have enough research just what its natural resources are and then make the most of them," he said.

"The American Mining Congress is doing great aid to the south in finding just what its greatest resources are and I hope that every company, great and small, will take the best advantage of your opportunities."

Mr. Churchill had for his subject,

"Profits—The Basis of All Industrial Profits." He warned against waste in equipment and manpower, particularly

"One of the greatest defects in many industrial organizations today is the great waste of human brains and brawn," Mr. Churchill said.

"Many companies fail to show a profit because their pay rolls are too great or that the money is being dissipated

for the wrong kind of men."

The conference came to a close with Friday afternoon's session and most of the delegates, who came from the 11 southern states in this division of the mining congress, left for their homes Friday night.

Tornado Victims Flee to Caves To Save Lives

Galion, Ark., April 12.—(AP)—Between 75 and 100 persons whose homes were swept away by a tornado Wednesday told relief workers today of some of the hardships that attend the lives of "cave dwellers." Members of from 25 to 30 families took shelter in caves in a mountain near which their village was situated, and pursued a primitive way of existence until outside aid reached them today.

Huddled together in family groups, the refugees spent Wednesday night in three large caves which not only were damp from a heavy rain that followed the storm but which are also filled with snakes and scorpions.

No blankets were available, so fires were built at entrances and the refugees took turns warming themselves and going back to their damp resting places to doff their clothes.

With the day, they emerged from their refuges to gaze upon the debris of their wrecked homes. They returned to the caves after a search of the ruins failed to produce anything of food value except a can of coffee.

During a long-haul trucked black bread was prepared and the refugees men, women and children, either took turns at drinking from the one container or from cups improvised from tin cans.

Violetta, who is holding a festival at her house, is attacked with a number of fainting spells, a forewarning of consumption, and Alfredo, who dearly loves her, is beside himself in his anxiety, which sentiment touches Violetta deeply and thus they pledge their mutual love for each other to do sweet is this new love that Violetta yields herself wholly to it, going with Alfredo to a little suburban home.

Alfredo's poetic temperament renders him unfit to take care of his wife's physical affairs.

His wife, Violetta, is forced to part with her jewels to maintain their home. At last, she is compelled to go to Paris to procure further funds. Alfredo learns of this and much perturbed, follows her.

PRICE FIXED ON SITES TO BE OFFERED U.S.

Fire Station No. 1 Valued at $125,000 and No. 5 at $40,000.

Way was cleared Friday for consideration of two city-owned sites as the possible location of the projected new $2,100,000 federal building at Atlanta which will be located in the block bounded by Marietta street, the Spring street viaduct and three blocks from the Rich's store. It is expected that heavy space requirements for displaying and storing furniture stocks prohibited location of the department in the Rich store, and that its establishment on Marietta street in a building which the firehouse are located.

Headquarters company No. 1 on Marietta street will be valued at $125,000 by the board and will be included in the block bounded by Alabama, Forsyth, Spring and Hunter streets on which the Title Guarantee & Trust Company has general options.

Action No. 5, at Spring and Trinity avenue, was valued at $40,000 and will be included in the block bounded by Trinity, Forsyth, Garnett and Spring streets. This block also will be submitted to the government.

Members of the board voted to exchange Station No. 8, on North Pryor street, for a strip located at northeast corner of Techwood drive and Cain streets. The Techwood property is 60 feet by 148 feet and the Massell Real Estate Co. has agreed to construct a $40,000 firehouse on the property free of cost to the city.

Other routine matters also were considered.

Action of the committee in setting the date of the primary was the result of followed requests of representatives of the Atlanta League of Women Voters, Atlanta Council of Jewish Women, the Atlanta Civic Council and the committees of the Atlanta Chamber of Commerce on registration and voting that day, according to Secretary.

J. P. Wall, chairman of the committee, announced that he would select the subcommittee to be composed of one committeeman from each of the 12 wards today.

One member from each ward, three aldermen, four members of the Atlanta board of education and a superintendent of waterworks must be nominated.

Patrolman E. G. Stephens received injuries to the right leg early Friday morning when he fell seven feet down into an oil pit at Marietta street and Ponders avenue while investigating a parked automobile.

PANTS CAUSE ARREST

Patrolman Finds Tight-Fitting Trousers on Negro.

Pants too tight for his 200-pound frame Friday led to the arrest of John Woodall, negro, of 407 Henry street, by Patrolman W. D. Nash, who subsequently discovered that the negro had stolen the trousers from Dr. R. L. Pomeroy of the Grady hospital staff. The negro was walking out of the hospital when arrested.

New Rich Furniture Annex Merchandising Innovation

An innovation in merchandising which is tantamount to inauguration of the bargain basement system in selling furniture was announced Friday by Rich's, Inc., in the opening of a bargain furniture annex to the big department store. The annex offers some furnishings of all kinds at low prices and with partial payments.

The annex is located at 164 Marietta street, block from the Spring street viaduct and three blocks from the Rich's store. It is expected that heavy space requirements for displaying and storing furniture stocks prohibited location of the department in the Rich store, and that its establishment on Marietta street in a building which the firehouse are located.

Washington, April 12.—(P)—Many letters inquiring whether diplomatic relations are to be resumed between the United States and the Vatican are being received by the White House and the state department from all sections of the country.

In response to all of these letters and to those inquiring about the American government's attitude in the event the present concordat between Italy and the Vatican, recognizing the sovereignty of the latter state, is ratified, the state department sends a brief note informing the writers that the question has not arisen.

Following the papal audience established by former Secretary of State Kellogg when the Italian-Vatican agreements were signed recently by Premier Mussolini and Cardinal Gasparri, the papal secretary of state, the state department has been asked to discuss the American attitude on the question in any way. It was pointed out today that the agreements have not been ratified and the matter could not be discussed until final action is taken by the papacy and the Italian government.

Informal Information.

The American government has received only the most highly informal information regarding the agreement and concordat between the Vatican and Italy. It is expected in some circles here that this government will be officially informed of the recognition of Italy by the sovereignty of the Vatican after the agreements are ratified.

In that case, it was pointed out, the United States would then be "aware" of the situation in the Vatican state, but this would not necessarily imply diplomatic recognition of its sovereign status by this government.

It is, of course, not known what the attitude of the American government on re-establishment of diplomatic relations with Italy will be. It is believed that the concordat and agreements with Italy are ratified within the prescribed four months after being signed.

While it is not impossible that Cardinal Gasparri might approach the United States on the question of diplomatic recognition after the signing of the agreements with Italy, it is doubted that any formal step would be taken by the papal secretary of state until informed approaches had been made to the American government to learn its attitude.

Egypt 80 Years Ago.

The United States sent a diplomatic representative to the Vatican more than 80 years ago after a considerable debate in the senate over the appropriation for his salary. Those who supported the proposal contended that the minister should not be sent to a spiritual character, but "evident sympathy with the spirit of freedom" which had broken out in Italy.

Jacob L. Martin, of North Carolina, was commissioner charged with the task of the appointment. In 1843 he died at his home in Latin City, Michigan, succeeded him and was later raised to the rank of minister-resident. From that time the United States had four ministers-resident at the Vatican, the last being Rufus King, of Wisconsin, appointed October 7, 1863, and later resigned.

In his message to congress in 1869, President Grant said he had been officially informed of the annexation of the papal states by Italy and that the United States had recognized the change in the status of their sovereignty. Since that time the United States has had no representative at the Vatican.

The duce, said Mr. Lowden, displayed a keen knowledge of agricultural conditions in the United States, but in other nations as well. He particularly asked what was the status of farm relief measures in America, and whether congress would grant them.

The interview, which lasted about ten minutes, was otherwise devoted to generalities.

IMMIGRATION ACT AMENDMENT URGED
BY SENATOR HARRIS

Washington, April 12.—(P)—Senator Harris, democrat, Georgia, announced today that he would introduce in the special session of Congress to close Mexican and Central and South American countries under the quota provisions of the immigration act.

A similar bill, applying only to Mexico, was introduced by Senator Harris at the beginning of session. It was favorably reported by the immigration committee, of which he is a member, but no action was taken in the senate.

The new bill, he said, would affect the quota for each of the countries at 1 percent. He added that he hoped to get action on the measure in the special session.

Revival To Open.

WALKER INMAN DIVORCE CASE IN JURY'S HANDS

Trial Which Brought Out
Sensational Charges,
Near End.

Reno, Nevada, April 12.—(P)—The Inman divorce case was given to the jury at 8:36 tonight.

The suit, brought by Walker Inman, son of Mrs. James B. Duke, widow of the tobacco magnate, was contested by Mrs. Helene Inman. The trial lasted several weeks.

Attorneys for Inman attempted to show that Mrs. Inman associated too freely with other men and was a habitual drunkard. Counsel for Mrs. Inman charged that Inman was brutal to his wife and himself was addicted to alcohol.

The trial brought out a record of many wild parties and questionable deportment in which both Inman and his wife were named as principals.

Blanketship Convicted.

Following the precedent set by a decision in the Blanketship case from the state supreme court several days ago, one of the instructions told the jury that "if you believe from the evidence that the plaintiff has been and does now practice such acts of misconduct which is cause for a divorce, then you should find that the plaintiff is not entitled to a divorce and the defendant is not entitled to a divorce."

In another instruction the court informed the jury that if the evidence was equally balanced as to extreme cruelty between the parties, their verdict should be that neither party is entitled to a divorce.

The court instructed that if the verdict favors the plaintiff on the issues presented in connection with the agreement, there will be nothing for them to determine with reference to almost Plaintiff Not Responsible.

Another instruction held that the law does not hold the plaintiff responsible for the acts of the defendant in connection with alleged drinking and driving, provided he was not keeping liquor on hand, or introducing it to men, providing plaintiff did not have any evil or corrupt motive intent or design toward or in relation to any such alleged actions on the part of the defendant.

The fact that a party comes to the state of Nevada for the purpose of procuring a divorce is not necessarily inconsistent with a purpose of acquiring a domicile in this state, was another instruction given.

Emory Debaters Defeat Harvard
By 3-to-0 Vote

Emory university's forensic contestants Friday night successfully vindicated emancipated woman against the Harvard university speakers before an audience that comfortably filled the university main auditorium.

Harlie Branch, Jr., of Atlanta; Glenn Elliott, of Norcross, and F. A. Settle, of Roanoke, Va., won a 3-0 verdict against Norman Winer, John E. Harding and Gerald W. Harrington, of Harvard, on every "Resolved, That Emancipated Woman Is a Curse." The northern team, containing two of the members of the eastern championship squad of last year, upheld the affirmative. Solicitor John C. Boykin, John S. Cohen, of the Atlanta Journal, and Reuben Arnold were the judges.

This is the second debate which Emory university has won against inter-sectional opposition this year, another team having turned back Princeton last month. The third inter-sectional debate will be held at Northwestern next week with Glenn Elliott and Glenn Haines participating.

Honesty injected by every speaker last night produced lively interest, from the standpoint of the audience, throughout the debate. The affirmative tended toward the assumption that woman had used her emancipation as license rather than liberty. The negative successfully maintained that emancipated women had contributed to the individual happiness to society and to the home. Winer, the only rebuttal speaker, presented some very destructive argument to the negative case in his last few minutes.

BENDIX COMPANY

New York, April 12.—(P)—Formation of a new corporation to take over several aviation accessories companies whose stocks have a present market value of $140,000,000 was announced here tonight. General Motors Corp. is to hold a majority interest in the new company.

The company is to have an authorized capital stock of $3,000,000; shares of which 2,200,000 will be outstanding.

Vincent Bendix, president of Bendix Corp., will be president of the new aviation corporation.

The show, for which persons only, proved to be one of the most interesting shows of the current season. It was played before an unusually large crowd.

In addition to the excellent blues singing, the show was full of novelty, comic bits and some real wing and buck dancing. The dancing pair of McKenzie and McKenzie in several good songs and dance numbers was especially good. Garden and Fields were the wing dancers who created such a sensation.

Another of the highlights of the program was the deluxe comedy pair, David Wiles and "Sparkplugs" George.

A five-piece orchestra enlivened the show considerably and was one of the real hits of the show.

Rountree endorsed

For Term in Council
By Grant Park Club

The Grant Park Boosters Club, meeting in the Grant Park school at 7:30 o'clock Friday, unanimously endorsed the candidacy of Councilman J. W. Rountree for another term in city council from the third ward.

Various speakers praised the record of Councilman Rountree, who is serving a one-year unexpired term.

Former Alderman W. B. Hartfield addressed the club on the subject. "Municipal Government" and outlined the many uses to which the citizens of Atlanta could put the tax money.

The acquisition of the Mobile Gas Company is an important addition to the gas system of the Central Public Service Corp., which recently acquired all the gas properties formerly owned by the Southeastern Power and Light Company and its subsidiaries, which include the systems serving Atlanta and Macon, Ga., and Charleston, S. C.

Powerhouse, Fla., has just acquired the Mobile Gas Company of Mobile, Ala., from the Dawes interests of Chicago, it was announced.

Crawford will next year be a senior medical student while Smith will be a senior in the school of arts and sciences.

P. C. Chastain has been exceptionally outstanding, although he is also a member of several honor societies. The latter was one of the two juniors elected to Phi Beta Kappa this year.

Crackers Drop Opener to Macon, 4 to 3

ATLANTA BATS ARE MUFFLED BY RICHARDSON

Peaches Score Four Runs in Wild First Inning and Hold to Lead.

Macon, Ga., April 12.—(Special.)—Tom Rogers' Macon Peaches today turned in their third victory in four starts against Class A and AA ball clubs, this time at the expense of the Atlanta Crackers, who dropped a close battle, 4-3, in the opener of a two-game series with the Sally leaguers.

"After the Peaches had thumped 'Climax' Blethen, a former Macon hurling ace, for four runs in the first innings, he held them to the bare minimum the rest of the game and shut the home club out, although the Peach batters touched him for eight safeties during the game.

The Crackers kept pecking away at Macon's early lead, though, within four runs, tying the score at nine. Maxie Rosenfeld scored on a wild throw and Johnny Jones' single in the seventh. But, although Wilbur Good's men got two men on the bags in the ninth, they were not pushed across the plate, as the defensive strength of Art McKay, with the Peaches' promising young losers,

PEACHES START SCORING.

Manager Good and the other ex-Macon players on the Atlanta squad, including Catcher Al Lopez, Pitchers Bill Rauch and Blethen, got a big hand from the crowd when the pitcher reached the豌豆射手, got after him by the first inning, while Marzetti knocked a triple to score Bill Marriott in the second for Atlanta's first run and then tallied himself on Bader's wide throw to catch him at third.

The Peaches' lead was in the first inning and sent four runs across the platter. "Rouy" Ryan, second baseman, was first up and he singled to center. Bader hit a high fly to centerfield and Rosenfeld dropped it. Hart Sullivan singled to right field. Hart scored on a double, taking third. McTigue sent a high sacrifice fly to right and Bader tallied after the catch. Overton Tremper singled, scoring Sullivan and the game home. Hart hit a wild throw and himself when Richards got him in fly safety. In the eighth, that went for two runs. Blethen forced his old battery mate, Charley Moore, to fly out to center for the last out.

CRACKERS SCORE TWO.

The Crackers went out one, two, three after Rosenfeld had walked in the first but pushed across two runs in the second. Bill Marriott, though Atlanta's third man, tallied a stolen second, took third on a passed ball and scored when Al Lopez hit one to deep left for three bags. Lopez came home an instant later on a wild throw.

After the second inning, however, Jim Richardson, the big right-handed fast-ball pitcher left here by the Brooklyn Dodgers Thursday, shut the Crackers out until the seventh, when Rosenfeld singled, stole second, took third on Charley Moore's wild throw, and scored on a double. John Jones' single, though short, That ended Atlanta's scoring although two men got aboard the bases in the ninth with one out. Art McKay, the slim left-hander from Macon, worked out of trouble admirably. His stuff at the start of the eighth and although a trifling wild, was effective. In the ninth Cat Miller batted for Blethen and singled over second. He was forced at second. Bader hit Ryan, by the way. Ryan did not score, his second out of the game. Jones walked but McKay settled down to fan Dick Wade and force Haley to ground out, ending the game.

GOOD GAME.

The game was a pretty exhibition so far in the season. Jim Richardson, having duel control of mid-season form, Richardson allowed but five hits during his stay on the mound, while the Crackers were able to glean but one safety during the two meetings. McKay faced during the game with three plays, Del McTigue and Tom Hart. The Macon outfielders made two sensational catches, while Johnny Jones, Cracker shortstop, and Paul Richards, 20-year-old Peach third sacker, con-

2-MILE EVENT SPRINT MEDLEY MARKS BROKEN

College Teams To Compete This Afternoon on Grant Field Track.

BY RALPH MCGILL.

Some 350 animated personifications of the spirit of amateurism ran their hearts out at Grant field Friday afternoon in desperate endeavor to bring honor to their schools and their coaches.

It was possible to run almost the entire gamut of emotion at the Flats. There was humor, pathos, joy and sorrow as the preparatory and high school athletes met in the first day of the annual southern relay carnival held by Georgia Tech.

The collegians will run Saturday afternoon, as will the grammar school competitors, but they will be lacking some of the high dashes that stamp the prep and high school meet as something really great. They know less than the college track and field men, do the boys, but they try, giving themselves without stint.

Today's events will be polished, thrilling things to see with experienced, well-oiled men running.

RAY YOUTH.

Raw youth on Friday. They looked raw, thin shanks and bunched over, looking cold and hard in the chilling winds that swept across the field, bringing with them odors of arnica and rubbing oils.

Morristown High school, from East Tennessee where there is a movement to eliminate the north foot from the war of the states, broke their own record in the two-mile relay. They broke it by 40 1-2 seconds, a most amazing performance. They set the record last year on a muddy track and the meet was in Chicago again in a scholastic meet there. They ran the two-mile event Friday in 8 minutes and 42 1-2 seconds, a very good performance indeed.

Berry School also ran a record into the ground Saturday. Bagley, Barratt, Crandall and Beale competing in the sprint medley, the Cadets came home in 3 minutes 42.2 seconds, to best the old mark, held by Boys' High, by 13.8 seconds.

In a quiet quarter a meet—there were pompadours bouncing in the air and more faces made at the finish line than Lou Chaney would make in a half dozen movies. The boys were putting out and blisters, sprains and falls wouldn't stop them.

TEAMMATES MISSING.

"Droopy" Carnes, running as if dogs were nipping at his scanty pants, was still downing his last lap in the first lap of the half-mile relay for Clark A. high schools, and had a lead of eight yards as he dashed to the waiting runners.

He gave there and a look of blank agony on his face. The second man in the relay had forgotten to answer the call and what looked like a sure victory for Tech High was lost.

Carnes hurried his baton to the second man and started out to look for the second man.

Griffin, of Joe Brown Junior High school, waited impatiently at the mark in the half-mile relay. He was running second and he was handed the baton with a lead of six yards. He started fast and as he dashed to the turn a tendon pulled out of place in his left leg and he was stopped short.

There was happiness and much

CLEMSON BOWS TO TECH, 5 TO 2

Jordan Checks Tigers in First Game of Series at Tech Flats.

Tech discovered the correct method of winning ball games Friday and took the first of a two-game series from Clemson by a 5-2 count.

The Jackets hopped off in the third frame to collect two runs, got two more in the fifth, and held the Tigers scoreless to that point. When Monk Dorfan finally called Gibson out at first base to end the fray, the Jackets found themselves happily on the long end of a 5-2 score.

John Jordan, Clay's moundsman for the day, was never in grave danger. He held Joe Guyon's lads to seven well-scattered hits, and though his sunburned arm fatigued, they failed to make up for their faults. Jordan also contributed a neat sacrifice which paved the way to the final Tech tally.

The Jackets, gathering 11 hits from the offerings of Clemson, got eight of them biggies in low-inning and they were made to push the Claymen across the plate for the five runs

BULLDOGS LOSE TO MICHIGAN

Asbeck Checks Georgians as Wolverines Win Opener, 4 to 1.

BY BOB SHERROD.

Athens, Ga., April 12.—Fredie Asbeck, giant University of Michigan right-hander, let the Georgia Bulldogs down with two singles this afternoon in the first of a two-game series. The Bulldogs' only run came in the ninth inning when Chafin, pinch-hitting for Martin, singled and came home as Weintraub threw wild to first after stopping Johnson hot grounder.

Jimmy Murdoch, Bulldog southpaw, had two bad innings, the first and the eighth; otherwise he held the slugging Wolverines fairly well in check. Half of the nine were needed to win the victory, which was obtained in three to two innnings. All of Michigan's runs were earned.

The fast ball which Asbeck shot across the plate had Coach White's bulldogs running through the bases. The Bulldogs were the first to score in the second, the lastinning except in the second. Asbeck got into hot water in the eighth, however, when he hit Martin and then stumped by hitting Martin and then some shifts will be made.

PEACHTREE TOSSESS At Canton Today

The General Fire Extinguisher Company's baseball team will journey to Cartersville, Ga., this afternoon for a game with last year's champions of the Y-Church Athletic Association.

Canton has been applied for mem-

The two teams will play a game of baseball and have again entered for the coming season when they hope to repeat. This league will again have eight clubs, though some shifts will be made.

Comparison of 1928 Figures Gives Giants Edge Over Cubs

McGraw's Team Leads With Bat

Cubs Have Best Team on Defense—Pitching of Two Clubs Is About Even.

BY GEORGE KIRKSEY,

United News Staff Correspondent.

New York, April 12.—(United News)—It will take a 554-game schedule to settle the argument between baseball partisans over the relative merits of the New York Giants and Chicago Cubs, but a perusal of last season's records gives an edge to John J. McGraw's club.

As often as not past performances do not mean a thing, but it forms an interesting experiment to compare the potential strength of the two leading National league pennant contenders.

The popular impression that the Cubs have the more powerful offensive team is not borne out by the 1928 averages. The Giants finished second in batting last season with an average of .293, while the Cubs trailed in fifth place with an average of .278.

INFERIOR ATTACK.

Even with the league's batting champion, Rogers Hornsby, in the lineup the Cubs' attack is inferior to the Giants' offense in the percentage column. Excluding pitchers and catchers the giants' seven regulars for 1928 have a batting average of .314 against .297 for the Cubs' seven.

An individual comparison of the two teams follows:

Based on last season's record the Cubs have the edge in pitching department, but McGraw's defense because four of the six Giants' wins were not with the club all season. Joe Geneovich did not join the Giants until June 15. Carl Hubbell was purchased from the Beaumont, Tex., league in mid-season. Bill Walker, still potentially a season and Dutch Henry was under suspension for several months. Hal Carlson, one of the Cubs' stars, also was unable to pitch most of last season. Jimmie Foxx, Eddie Cicotte and Geneovich in the harness, and Geneovich at their best, the Giants' staff is second to none in the National league.

Hornsby and Wilson

In Victory.

Kansas City, April 12.—Rogers Hornsby hit consecutive homers in the eighth inning today and the Chicago Cubs defeated the Kansas City Blues in an exhibition contest, 4 to 1. The game was the first of a series of three.

Tom Sheehan, ace of the Blues' staff, pitched a one-hitter, the National League to one hit and no runs in five innings, but the Bruins hopped all over George Murray, who ascended to the mound for the Americans association club at the start of the sixth. After five innings Root retired from the game, Blake, who was as effective as his mate.

The fact that Max Schmeling is the only one able to stop him makes the German look better than ever. Apparently the astonishing Cleveland baker boy still had lot left when Schmeling dropped him. At least, no other boxer, before or after, has been able to duplicate the performance.

THE NEXT NEW STAR.

Paul Waner, of Pittsburgh, was the last young star to show its light in baseball's firmament. It will be interesting to see whether the present season can give some line on another who will soon be needed to fill any number of open gaps caused by the passing of Cobb, Speaker and one or two more.

There were several young players last season who at least broke to a good start, but one year is no proof. Waner has proved his case completely, including four years in the minors and four in the majors, his eight-year batting average has been around .365. That evidence is conclusive enough.

Waner's return gives Pittsburgh an outside chance, possibly something more than an outside chance, since Pittsburgh is stronger than her finish last season might indicate. No team in either league ran into as many injuries and accidents as Donie Bush's young men encountered from April to August. About half the cast was broken up for the first two or three months. Once they were all reassembled with the splints and bandages removed they played the best ball in the league.

There is no great choice among the first four—Cubs, Giants, Cardinals and Pirates. They have been pretty well bunched for two or three years and it was not until the Cubs bagged Hornsby that Chicago took a jump. The Hornsby punch, added to the blasting power of Hack Wilson, Cuvier and Stephenson, will mean a bale of trouble for opposing pitchers. But it won't mean enough extra strength to make the Cubs outstanding favorites over three such strong teams as the Giants, Cardinals and Pirates are sure to be with any even break in luck—luck meaning the amount of physical injuries that may break out.

"British pro is quite anxious to get a look at Horton Smith,"—News item. It is said that quite a number of pros on this side have been looking up at Horton Smith and would just as soon spend the rest of the season looking at some one else. Or anything else.

Washington, April 12.—(AP)—Bill Walker went the route for the Giants today, giving the Senators just five hits and the New York club won its first game of the spring series against Washington. The score was 4 to 0. Sam Jones allowed no hits to the Senators, but the Giants assaulted Garland Braxton for three runs in the seventh and one in the eighth to bag the game.

COTTON BRIEFS

BY W. G. HARDIN,

Market Editor, The Constitution

Dull trading in the cotton market yesterday had one favorable feature from a bullish standpoint.

Bearish news was not pressed by traders on that side of the fence, and gains noted in certain months of more active trading.

Futures in New York were steady to a advance of 4 points in

New Orleans ran

2 to 5 points.

New York spot cotton advanced 3 points to 20.70 at the close. New Orleans prices were unchanged. Atlantic spot sales were 600, at 10.65.

Sustaining features of the market were the monthly cotton textile report, continuance of heavy exports, larger takings for world consumption and for domestic mills than last year, and the corresponding greater decrease in the world's visible supply of American cotton.

A smaller into sight supply another feature.

The into sight for the past week was 10,000 against 154,000 bales

Takings since August 1 have been 14, for the same period 12,925,000 bales for the same period year.

World spinners' takings of American cotton for the week were 300,000 appreciable increase for the week.

The world's visible supply today is

1,326,000 bales against 4,545,000 bales

last year at the same date.

Such figures are bullish, and capable of maintaining a steady price in the market for a considerable period of time.

A revision of the future rules of the

New Orleans Cotton Exchange, adopted by the board of directors yesterday, is to effect the extension of credit on contracts shall not exceed $5 a bale or a maximum of $10,000. The same ruling was recently adopted by the New York exchange.

The purpose is apparent, and is aimed at the danger of extending too much credit to any single trader.

The addition of rules to control the conduct of members of the exchange from time to time will eventually result in better business methods and to a realization tending toward greater protection of the trader.

Spot cotton sales are approximately 5,000 bales behind the 1928 figures for yesterday.

Statistical cotton stocks in 102 inland towns, and 32 seaports in the United States, of stocks on shipboard and abroad give some explanation of this apparent slackening of sales.

Hubbard Bros. & Co. wire: "It will sharp advance would result so we continue to believe purchases made on recessions the best position to take."

Orie Brothers & Co. say: "Every time the price of cotton dips good demard in and creates a rally follows."

"At the opening tomorrow December domestic consumption figures will be published by the census bureau and if they show an excess of garments or 626,000 estimate demand is likely to be sufficient to cause higher prices.

"Next week farm relief legislation will be introduced in Congress. This law is a foreign conclusion. Its effect upon the value of cotton appears not only to be overlooked but is set at. We are convinced that it will cause higher prices."

Fenner & Beane say: "Forecast indicates increasing cloudiness for the west and fall warmer for the remainder. The cool weather has called attention to the fact that the planting hasn't passed the stage where it offfers certainty of a greatly reduced carrying load and likelihood of an additional situation before the next crop comes to the market. Looks like traders' market for a time."

H. H. Herk say: "The outlook, as far as general conditions are concerned in this country, is exceptionally promising for the production of many crops, which are comparatively small consumers with large requirements.

"The industry is the strongest in this respect, particularly in the cotton trade, noted by the fact that the cotton crop is the largest in the United States now.

At the 102 cotton interior towns, and by the smaller stocks in the coastal towns, the situation is the same.

At present, the cotton situation is the best in the country, and the outlook is the same.

DAY IN FINANCE

By
R. L. BARNUM

New York, April 12.—Stocks opened high, sold off early in the day on profit-taking, then again advanced but with trading again light. There was more activity after call money, which opened at 9 per cent, dropped to 8, and then to 7.

100 shares of long stocks were encouraged by the weekly decrease of $135,000,000 in brokers' loans, the third consecutive drop making a total of $306,000,000 since the peak was made March 20; also by the improved position of short-term bank loans, especially Chicago, as shown in the weekly statement. The unexpected gain of $21,500,000 in gold holdings was also a favorable factor.

The decrease of $306,000,000 in brokers' loans, however, had a decrease of $206,000,000 in three weeks last December, $404,000,000 in three weeks starting the middle of February and running several weeks.

A weekly decrease of $57,700,000 was shown in the weekly statement of brokers belonging to the Los Angeles Stock Exchange to $40,225,000.

The peak was touched during the week ended February 6 at $42,774,400. These local loans are not included in the figures reported weekly and monthly by the member banks of the federal reserve district here for their own account for the account of out-of-town banks and for others.

Stocks Decrease.

Refined copper stocks in North and South America at the end of March amounted to 52,000 tons, against 55,000 at the end of February, 62,000 at the end of January, 78,000 at the end of March, 1928, 78,000 against 111,000 for February and 128,000 for March last year. March shipments were 163,000 tons, against 148,000 for February and 128,000 for March of last year.

An increase of $31,522,000 during the past week in the gold holdings of the New York money market, $27,293,000 released car-marked metal and another $4,229,000 from Argentina, co-operating with foreign central banks is carrying on a losing fight to prevent further gold imports by causing through the high interest rates for money to buy and 128,000 for March of last year.

The federal reserve is reluctant at the present time to advance the discount rate because the effect would be to make our money rates higher. Higher money rates might not check stock speculation, but the gold was attracted and while general trade was heavily hurt by the high interest rates. Obviously, excessive stock speculation, which is at the bottom of the stock situation cannot be checked without some action taken. The one thing certain is that the existing situation will not continue. Only time will tell who, when necessary readjustment comes, is going to get hurt most, the public speculating in the stock market or general trade here and abroad.

May Be Safety Valve.

An unnamed treasury official is quoted in Washington dispatches as saying in effect that when the stock and money market story now in the making is finally written it may be found that the extremely high rates for money caused by excessive stock speculation required a safety valve in checking inflation, in general trade which is harder to correct than inflation in the stock market. Only a fortnight ago the American Bank of Commerce and the First National Bank of Atlanta both predicted slowing down ahead in general trade because the existing production pace is too fast. Undoubtedly the high money rates have

Produce

Early demand and trading were only fair yesterday morning. Supplies of several commodities were light, especially noticeable with the exception of fresh green vegetables. Supplies of cereals were moderate. Supplies of green beans were liberal. The market was slightly weaker. Cabbage, tomatoes and other vegetables were moderately strong.
